He is a civic leader, a lawyer, a business executive, a scholar, an educator, and a friend of High Point College. Because we think of him as a successful personality, — a man who has made the most of his opportunities and whose achievements are evidence enough that he has been true to the ideals that college students on all college campuses hold to be the highest, we respectfully dedicate the 1935 Zenith to Tower-top, pigeon's eye view of campus life; a panorama of all that High Point College means to us—of limping basketball heroes . . . chem lab odors . . . mixed bar-room melodies from McCulloch . . . cars passing on the highway . . . "peanuts for sale" in the lobby . . . ten o'clock bell at Woman's . . . cocky-capped freshmen . . . the gym scoreboard . . . Coach's "Hi-Po" blowing about in the wind . . . pipe-smoke and talk and sandwiches at the Store . . . the fountain looking aimless; Sunday afternoon strollers . . . bulletin board gazers . . . and thumb-hoisting star gazers . . . the eagerly awaited postman; Old Yadkin's victory ring . . . Roberts Hall about sun-down . . . the tall gates through which we entered and through which we shall leave. These—and all the other glimpses that may suggest rare, rich college days.

NAT GRAHAM BETHEA

GREENSBORO, N. C.

Degree: A.B. Age: 29

Football (1); Basketball (1); Thalean Literary Society (1); Basball (1); Tennis (1). Nat is quiet and resigning and never allows anything to come between him and his pleasure. His collection of wild tales verifies the fact that he has probably seen more and done more than any of us have or ever expect to do.

EMMA CARR BIVINS
HIGH POINT, N. C.

Degree: A.B.                  Age: 21

Business Manager the Zenith; Artemesian Literary Society (1); Woman's Day Student Council (3), Secretary (3); Class Vice-President (3); The HI-PO staff (2), Exchange Editor (2); A Capella Choir (4); Little Theatre (4); Chairman Senior Class Advisory Committee; Publications Board (4).

ROBERT M. BYRUM
HIGH POINT, N. C.

Degree: A.B.                  Age: 22

Y. M. C. A. (2); Soccer (1, 2, 3, 4), Captain (4); Class Treasurer (4).
Bob, the old wag. If he's not collecting class dues, he is collecting for dry-cleaning. But he is well liked in spite of it. The College without Bob; Bob without his wise-cracks—two things hard to imagine.

PAUL H. BRINKLEY
WELCOME, N. C.

Degree: A.B.                  Age: 21

Appalachian State Teachers College (2); Thalian Literary Society (3, 4), Critic (4), Vice-President (4); Purple Kittens (3); Basketball (4).

With a cheery smile and a contagious chuckle "Brink" takes things as they come. He managed to get some good grades, too.

KERON K. CANADY
HIGH POINT, N. C.

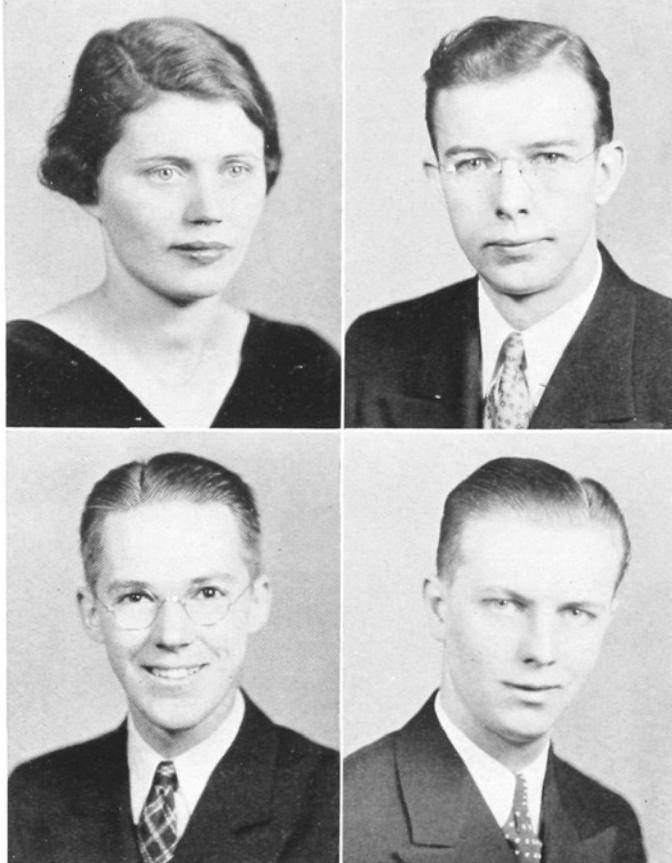

Degree: A.B.                  Age: 23

Woman's College University North Carolina (1); High Point College Summer School; Nikanthan Literary Society (4).

One naturally seems to think of pleasant things and "Kay." She is one of those "grand" people with genuineness and graciousness and friends to spare.

IRENE HASSEL CHADWICK
JAMESTOWN, N. C.

Degree: A.B. Age: 21

Nikanthan Literary Society (1, 2, 3, 4). Irene with the quiet ways. She just seems to study and study people and things. She can always remember the little things that others forget but wish they remembered. Library work is her forte. One can fancy Irene house-keeping splendidly for "Shake, Mullcary and Goethe" and all the rest.

A Θ Ψ

JOHN ALFRED ESHELMAN
HIGH POINT, N. C.

Degree: A.B. Age: 21

Mars Hill College (1); North Carolina State College (2); Akrothianian Literary Society (3, 4), President (4); Choir (4); Orchestra (3). Things good, bad, wise, foolish, literary, musical—in fact, anything can find an appreciative audience in John.

E H Φ

OSCAR LEE EASTER
HIGH POINT, N. C.

Degree: A.B. Age: 25

Berea College (1, 2); Ministerial Association (3, 4), President (4); Y. M. C. A. (3, 4), Secretary (4), Editor Y. M. C. A. Handbook (4); Choir (4).

It is easy to imagine that Oscar will go far in the ministry. With his quiet dignity, his thoughtfulness, and his seriousness of purpose, he rather approaches our idea of a Christian gentleman.

JAMES HENRY HIGHT
HENDERSON, N. C.

Degree: A.B. Age: 22

Akrothianian Literary Society (2, 3, 4), Assistant Secretary (4); Baseball (2, 3, 4); Manager Basketball (4).

"Chunker" was the originator of a host of funny expressions and immortalized the old ones by adding a new tone to them. We can't forget his "hey" and "sto's open".

JOHN HAROLD JENNINGS
HIGH POINT, N. C.

Degree: B.S. in Commerce Age: 20

North Carolina State College (1, 2); Baseball (4); Akrothinian Literary Society (4). Stocks, bonds, public utilities, baseball, basketball, and poker all go to make up Mr. Jennings' boy, John. He takes life slow and easy, can argue rather convincingly the negative side of a proven fact, and will bet you that the sun won't shine tomorrow.

WALTER WILBUR HUTCHINS
HIGH POINT, N. C.

Degree: A.B. Age: 23

University of North Carolina (1); Wake Forest College (2); Thalean Literary Society (3, 4), President (4), Chaplain (3, 4); Ministerial Association (3, 4); Student Council (3, 4); Vice-President Student Body (3); President Student Body (4); High Point College Student Government Organization Committee; Debating Team (4).

Degree: B.S. in Chemistry Age: 20

The Citadel (1, 2); Akrothiniian Literary Society (3, 4).

John has his mind made up to be a country doctor, but he still has airplanes, army tanks and guns at heart. He is an amiable sort of fellow who hasn't much to say until you start telling tall stories or talking about the army.

WHAT, WHERE AND WHY

No phenomenon at all. Merely Old Yadkin in unconventional pose. It is an x-ray, if you please, of the very heart of that noisy old College Crier that has been shouting things at these Seniors for years. And the greatest news it has to tell is not "soup's on" but Victory! Then to please us—ring on and on, Old Yadkin, College Bell.

A SIGN

IMPROVEMENT

The sign, which graces the front campus, was the gift of the Artemesian-Akrothiniian Literary Societies on their sixth Society Day last spring. Since the sign has no plate bearing the names of its donors, we wish to acknowledge here the good work of these two societies in beautifying and promoting the interest of High Point College.

FINALE

THE class that came to High Point College in 1931 was the best class that had ever registered at this institution. There were not, nor should there be, any apologies. We found out later that they flattered every class every year with the same remark. Whatever our deeper convictions may be, we shall modestly admit that we were only an average group with high aspirations for improvement and achievement. It is true that great things come in small packages; the package that is our class has grown smaller with the years and has, we realize, rather decreased than increased in value. To phrase it in old tried and true language, the proverbial ship (the class, of course) has lost many of its ablest hands. Although there are fewer sailors on board, the ship is still in smooth sailing. It is ready now to make port, not because the crew is too weak to man the old vessel but because the welcome land is in sight. (Indeed the land is welcome, yet why do we grieve? From salty seas to salty tears—)

Since figures of speech are in order (see above) and all true-to-form class histories must somehow manage to refer to an army at war, may we continue to confuse our metaphors by suggesting that the Class of 1935 has had its war on the seas? Our pirate foes are the same creatures that always attack college cruisers. We met our share of opposing forces of valences, bisections, Beowulfs, Renaissances, logarithms, and dates (the Dr. Kennett or the regulated "skirt barn" variety—as you liked them or as you didn't). The most distressing fact that we have come to realize is that we have acquired a kind of affection for those apparent enemies and are loath to declare the final victory. Perhaps if we absorb those conventional end-of-the-season lectures that are bound to assure us that we are on the threshold of life's door and that we are only beginning, we may see that this victory is not so truly final—that we may look forward to many another worthy battle.

Perhaps, after all, we have not really done spectacular things. It is more important that we have accomplished something memorable in our lives; that we have partaken of something that we leave as a heritage to the classmen who follow us. We cherish in memory these four years, our associations, our accomplishments (and dare we say even the demerits or the memory of their cause?) We wish to acknowledge with sincerest gratitude the inspiration and help of our class adviser, Mrs. White. We express similarly our appreciation of a most understanding and inspiring faculty.

It will be with a mingled feeling of sentiment, of regret, and of joy that we receive our diplomas in May. As a class we shall have reached a certain height together. As individuals we shall cherish our own memories of the years. And individually and together we shall anticipate the Future, equipped with all it has been our privilege to have gained.

Unquestionably, the Junior Class has done things this year. The three-mile post (tritely put, of course) has been reached and the class is already a bit proud of its accomplishments. Another year, say the Juniors, and we'll—

Well, consider what the Class of '36 has contributed to the College in the past eight months, and perhaps any boast will not seem too extravagant.

Alpha—a large share in Harrison Gymnasium's invaluable new heating system.

Beta—that mad, merry Fall Carnival when Becky Kearns was crowned College Queen and Kermit Cloniger was dubbed "the power behind the throne".

Gamma—a gay spring cabaret.

Delta—the Junior-Senior in April. Positively the banquet to end banquets.

Giving orchids where orchids are due, the fragrant blooms this year go to all the officers—particularly to Lois Hedgecock, busy chairman of the executive committee and to President Cloniger—as well as to Professor Mourane, the private patron saint of the Junior Class.

Coach

The ability to work with men, the determination to win, regardless of the odds, the power to imbue his men with his own spirit of determination and fine sportsmanship—these qualities have distinguished Coach Yow as an outstanding athletic mentor.

A T H L E T I C A S S O C I A T I O N

All athletics at the College are under the control of the Athletic Association. This group, guided by Dr. C. R. Hinshaw as president, has provided a well-rounded athletic program for the College—one that rates near the top among the other colleges of the North State Conference.

The Athletic Council supervises the scheduling of all games, the determining of the eligibility of players, and the enforcement of all conference rules. The Council also awards all athletic monograms.

The Association has so directed athletics at the College that the fundamental aims and purposes back of all its programs have been and will continue to be realized—namely, that all participants may be trained in initiative, self-control, cooperation, and fine sportsmanship, and that a fine, wholesome college spirit may prevail.

B A S K E T B A L L

Taking second honors in the North State Conference and winning two victories over Big Five teams, the Purple Panther basketeers finished another successful season under the tutelage of Coach C. Virgil Yow.

The Elon Christians proved to be the main obstacle in the Panthers' march toward the conference title. After winning the first five conference tilts, the Yowmen fell before the Christians twice in one week to give the championship to Coach Walker's boys. The old jinx held good again in the contests with Guilford as the Quakers came out on top in both the loop tilts. Elon and Guilford were the only teams able to beat the High Point club this year.

The Panthers won 18 out of 22 games played. Thirteen were conference tilts while the others were with "Y" clubs and industrial teams. The Panthers won nine loop games and dropped four to Elon and Guilford. A total of fourteen different teams were played, two of which belonged to the Big Five. The outcome of the two contests with Davidson and Wake Forest, in which the Panthers were victorious, was a surprise to basketball fans throughout the State.

The Panthers conquered E. C. T. C. and A. C. C. in the first inter-collegiate matches on the opponents' courts. The following week a trip to the western part of the State netted three more victories to give them first place in the conference standings.

The Panthers won their first home game from W. C. T. C. and then lost to Elon on the Elon court for the first defeat of the season. Returning to the home court for two weeks, the scrappy basketeers won seven games and lost two, defeating the strong Wake Forest and Davidson teams and losing to Elon and Guilford.

PURPLE KITTENS

The Purple Kittens squad, composed of players who were not quite good enough to get on the varsity, enjoyed a very successful season this year. Coach Yow spent quite a bit of time with the Kittens, coaching and drilling them in the fundamentals of the game. All of the Kittens were first year men, hence, they had had no previous experience in college ball. Coach has hopes of adding to the strength of the Panther squad next year from this year's Kitten material.

Grigg, scrappy freshman from near Shelby, has plenty of the old fighting spirit—always going after the ball with the zest that bespeaks a determination to win. He should develop into a valuable man.

Shannon, flashy little forward from "down east", is another freshman who should see plenty of varsity action in the next three years. Shannon shows unusual speed and accuracy in passing and shooting.

Morris comes to us from Denton. Calmness, speed, and dependability characterize him. We expect him to develop into one of our most dangerous Panthers before he reaches for his sheepskin in '38.

Rogers, tall, lanky center from Henderson, proved himself to be a mainstay in the Kitten lineup, and we are depending on him to develop into a first-rate pivot man.

Other prospects on the Kitten squad were Kearns, Brinkley, Watkins, Barr, Jones, and Watson.

SOCER

The Purple Panther shin-busters held their own again this year to boost their non-defeat record to five consecutive years. Out of nine games played this season the Panthers won eight and tied one with Duke.

Considerable interest has been displayed in soccer here at the College especially since football was abandoned several years ago. So great has been this interest that steps have been taken to introduce soccer as a major sport in the North State Conference. It is now considered a major sport at High Point and has become the chief item of the fall athletic program.

The prolonged success of the soccer team is due largely to Broadus Culler, student coach. His efficient coaching and outstanding offensive play have been prime factors in making the team recognized as one of the best in the State.

Captain Byrum and Manager Davis are also worthy of a considerable amount of praise. Byrum will be missed in the line-up next year, but Davis is expected to form an important cog in the 1935 machinery. Two other men who were seen in action for the last time this year are Yount and Jones.

BASEBALL

CAPTAIN SHERRILL

Sherrill's thorough knowledge of baseball and his ability to put that knowledge into practice has merited him the captaincy of his team and the state-wide recognition which he has received both in amateur and collegiate circles.

High Point's baseball representatives of 1934 whipped through to second place in the North State Conference, with Elon slipping into first. The Panther team took thirteen games and lost seven for the best season since inter-collegiate baseball competition was started in 1933.

The first three games of the season were dropped to Elon, Catawba, and Western Carolina Teachers, but were followed up by a winning streak of eight consecutive. The Lenoir-Rhyne Bears put a stop to this victory march by handing the Panthers a severe defeat on May 1. However, the next day the Purple baserunners came back to take a double-header from Atlantic Christian and tie with Elon for first place. In a return game, Elon eked out a close victory over the Panthers to take the lead in the titular race. High Point took the next two games from the Catawba Indians and the Lenoir-Rhyne Bears, but bowed to Catawba in the last two games of the season, to finish in second place.

Sherrill was star hurler, having won eleven out of his fourteen games. Rudisill, the team's only left-hander, saw very little action on account of an injured arm, but will catch plenty of mound duty this spring, since Captain Sherrill will be shifted to the outfield for rests now and then. Diamont, Culler, Hight, Dorsett, and Ingle will be seen in action again this year.

At High Point College tennis has become one of the outstanding sports among the students, both in interest and activity. Last fall the men's tournament created much interest and simultaneously revealed some choice ability in the freshmen. Frank Niernsee, a first-year man, battered his way to the top round in the singles and with the aid of Larry Yount, veteran netman, succeeded in capturing the doubles crown by defeating the Primm-Cloniger duo. Wilson Rogers and Humphreys, sophomores, Cary Wright and Gray, freshmen, turned in stellar performances, but could not withstand the steady fire of Niernsee in the singles tournament, nor the overwhelming opposition of Yount and Niernsee in the doubles race. Last year the Panther netmen took Elon and Western Carolina Teachers into camp, but bowed twice to Lenoir-Rhyne and once to Appalachian. The defeat of Elon marked the first win of the season and the first victory in inter-collegiate competition at High Point College.

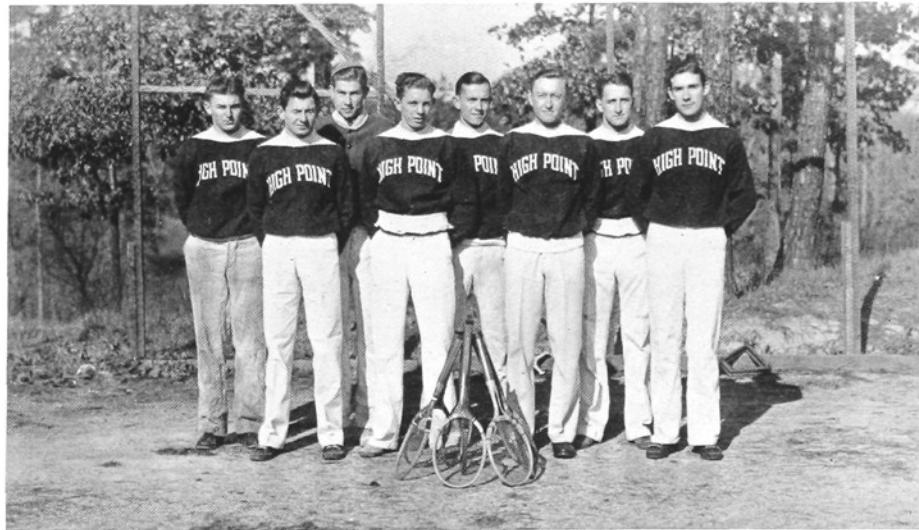

With improved courts and a variety of material, Coach Yarborough hopes to build a team that will make a definite bid for conference leadership this spring.

FRANK NIERNSEE

Frank's smashing serve and remarkable defensive play won him the coveted berth of men's singles champion of High Point College. Though just a freshman, he has already proven his worth to the Panther team in inter-collegiate competition.

WOMAN'S SPORTS COUNCIL

The newly organized Woman's Sports Association of High Point College is represented by a governing board composed of the officers of the Association and all the various sports managers.

General affairs of the girls' athletics club are carried on by this selected group known as the Sports Council. The Council looks after such routine duties as the nomination of officers, the selection of Pledge Week, and the awarding of honors. When there is apparently enough interest shown in a new sport, it is the duty of the governing board to organize that sport on the campus.

At the end of each semester the Sports Council must thumb the files in Dr. Kennett's office to find the scholastic records of individual Association members, and to make sure that no candidate for a class team falls below a "C" average. Finally, it is the purpose of the Council to see that the fundamental aims of the entire Association are carried out, and to recommend to the society worthwhile activities.

Officers who served on the Woman's Sports Council during the past year:

DOROTHY PERRY . . . . .	President
VIRGINIA GRANT . . . . .	Vice-President
MARGARET DIXON . . . . .	Eligibility Chairman
JUANITA HAYWORTH . . . . .	Treasurer
INZA HILL . . . . .	Editor

WOMAN'S SPORTS ASSOCIATION

Women's sports are something more this year than attractive lavender costumes and lively exhibitions of "ye olde folke dances." Since the formation of a local chapter of the Woman's Sport Association, there has been a renewed interest in co-ed athletics. The new organization, national in scope, opens its membership to all girls and faculty members who care to participate in sports. Its general purpose is to develop a program of athletics that will provide both wholesome recreation and practical training. Specifically, the Association sponsors all intra-mural contests and supervises all competitions in women's sports.

Soon after its foundation here, the new organization promoted a volley ball tournament that brought more than half of the co-eds out for the competing class teams. With the close of the fall season, basketball became the popular sport and the various teams were rivals for the College championship, decided by a series of contests in February. On the sports calendar for Spring were baseball and tennis tournaments. The new program has also featured throughout the year, tumbling, tap-dancing, and hikes (both the plain and the breakfast variety).

To recognize individual achievement in athletics, the Woman's Sports Association awards points for participation in its various activities. To win an HP letter, five hundred points is the requirement; a girl may win the coveted HP sweater by earning two thousand points.

To the class whose teams have the highest percentage rating, Miss Sidney Brame awards a loving cup at the end of the year.

It is the further project of the Association to work hand in hand with the Administration in an effort to establish a department in the College that may in the near future award to candidates the B.S. degree in physical education.

VOLLEY BALL

High Point co-eds do not have any opportunity to participate in inter-collegiate games. But they are quite willing to leave all athletic exhibitions up to the brawny Panthers if they may enjoy the lively intra-mural games that have been initiated this year.

Fall sports for the College girls begin in earnest when volley ball begins. Almost any afternoon during the crisp autumn days a number of lavender-clad players may be seen scurrying about on the breezy court back of Woman's Hall. All this enthusiasm means heavy practice in preparation for the hotly-contested November tournament.

Class competition during the past season was particularly keen. With a wealth of hopeful candidates seeking team positions, it was very easy to select four efficient groups of volley ball players of true point-making ability.

Naturally after months of ardent training a great deal of interest was shown in the championship play in November. Though having encountered some lively competition, the Sophomores emerged victorious. Final scores were:

Freshmen . . . . .	43;	Juniors . . . . .	27
Sophomores . . . . .	34;	Juniors . . . . .	27

BASKETBALL

The same ardent gum-chewing fans who perch high on the boards and supply the soprano shrieks at the ball games, are themselves quite adept in the art of basket-making. When the Davidson-depleting Panthers are not about their haunts, Miss Brame's students invade Harrison Gymnasium and cavort about the basketball courts to their heart's content. This is not to say that the co-eds do not take their basketball seriously. For doubtless if they too could engage in inter-collegiate games the Lavender Kittens would make a strong bid for any championship. According to the co-ed coach, games during the past season revealed that there are many players of exceptional talent.

With the advent of spring and the interest in baseball stirring, the girls locked up their basketballs and deserted the courts—but not until they had finished the annual inter-class tournament that brought championship honors to the Freshman team after their defeat of the Juniors and Seniors.

In the accompanying picture may be seen a representative group of Miss Brame's ablest basketeers. They have been selected from the three lower classes.

TUMBLING

At different points in the above pyramid may be found the members of the tumbling team, a newly organized group this year, which has shown much skill in executing various feats. The tumblers are Dot Perry, Lillian Varner, Dot Bell, Elizabeth Bagwell, Inza Hill, Jacqueline Cameron, Pauline Parker, Louise Davis, Jeanette Harris, Fay Holt, Virginia Grant, Martha Ivachiw, and Josie McNeill.

BASEBALL

Baseball is the outstanding spring sport of the co-eds. As in other important sports, an annual tournament is held to determine the class champions. Pictured in the above group from left to right are: Josie McNeill, Vesta Troxler, Kathleen Heptinstall, Cerelda Lackey, Bernardine Hurley, Dot Perry, Virginia Grant, Inza Hill, Fay Holt, Pauline Parker, Dot Bell, Jo Williams, and Rebecca Kearns.

STUDENT GOVERNMENT

Student government at High Point College is only an infant; it is just learning to walk, but its possibilities are many and varied. The student government movement came as the result of a sincere desire on the part of the student body to have a voice in its own discipline. There was a need for a centralizing, unifying force on the campus, and a student government, vested in a student council elected by the students, was the only logical answer.

Since its inauguration in 1933 it has gone far towards fulfilling its purpose. It has promoted proper conduct and worthwhile attitudes among the students; but it has not forced these attitudes and this conduct. Instead it has held them up as ideals. It has founded an Honor System and has had the satisfaction of seeing that system work reasonably well. Finally, it has been instrumental in leading the students towards an enthusiastic, loyal school spirit.

PUBLICATIONS BOARD

The Publications Board is the governing body for the publications on the High Point College campus. Its duties are very few, other than endeavoring to enforce its iron-clad regulations, to promote harmony between the Zenith and THE HI-PO, and to supervise the signing of contracts and appointments to the two boards.

Last year the board went on a "legislative spree" and passed a group of regulations for the purpose of strengthening and adding to the prestige of the two publications of the College by creating a closer feeling, cooperation, and fellowship between the two staffs; by fostering the student's loyalty to his respective board; and by dividing the responsibility and honors more evenly among the students. Some of the regulations stated that no student at the College shall be a member of both the Zenith and THE HI-PO Staffs; that in case a member of one or the other of the two staffs receives an offer for a position on the other board, he shall at once declare his ineligibility and withdraw; that no member of either board who resigns from that board or is dropped from membership shall during his full time at the College become a member of the other board; and that all photographs and cuts of each board shall be available to the other without cost or delay. Fortunately, these regulations stipulate that they may be set aside in case of an emergency.

The membership of the board consists of the Editors and Managers of the two publications, the Adviser to the Zenith, the President of the Senior Class, and a chairman appointed by President Humphreys.

THE ZENITH

Only those who are experienced in the Annual field can truly appreciate the difficulties and disappointments that a staff experiences in the evolution of a yearbook from a chaotic conglomeration of ideas into a concrete finished work that is regarded by the average man as a pretty picture book. Rest assured that we have given our best, and in so doing have experienced our share of difficulties and heart-rending disappointments.

This year we have enlarged the book slightly and abandoned the standard cover in order to give you something different. The loose theme is merely a medium through which we have endeavored to portray campus life to you more fully.

Allow us to express our sincerest appreciation to W. A. Daniel, M. F. Dunbar, Tom Daniel, and Herbert Hitch for their personal interest and counsel. To you, students, we offer thanks for your unfailing cooperation, and hope that the 1935 Zenith pleases you.

THE HI-PO STAFF

Striving always to present impartially that which the student body desires, THE HI-PO feels that this year it has come the closest to that peak of news dissemination desired by every college paper that it has done since it was first established in 1926.

The aim of THE HI-PO has been two-fold: first, to present impartially all news of student interest; second, to drive, editorially, for a better High Point College.

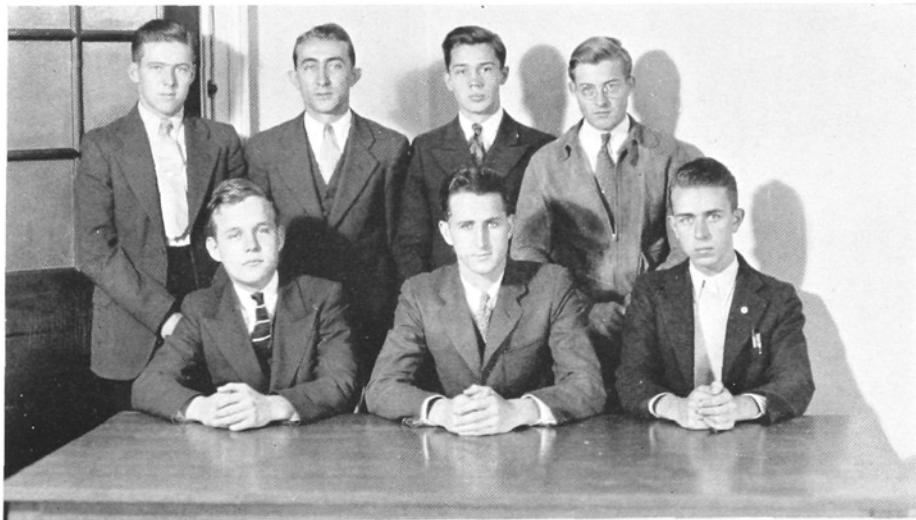

We believe that throughout the entire year THE HI-PO has told the student body what it wanted to know as soon as possible. News coverage has been complete because and only because of the whole-hearted cooperation of an enthusiastic, active board.

The editorial policy of the paper has without exception been constructive. Much improvement has been made; we believe that it was motivated by THE HI-PO. We rest our case.

MISS MARGARET SLOAN
Director

Through her kindness, patience, and perseverance, Miss Sloan has endeared herself to the members of her choir and taught them an appreciation of the art and beauty in group singing.

A CAPELLA CHOIR

The A Capella Choir was organized six years ago and since that time has achieved recognition as being one of the few A Capella Choirs of musical prominence in America. Its membership is limited to thirty-five voices, due to the fact that its extensive travels will not permit a larger number. A limited number of new singers is admitted each year in order to fill the vacancies of those who have graduated and to replace those whose ability does not measure up to the standard of the group. Examinations are given just as in academic courses and those passing are given three credit hours for the year's work. An annual northern tour is made of the prominent cities of the North with part of the trip being made on water. An annual tour of the Southern states and Cuba is also made along with week-end trips to different sections of North Carolina and adjacent states.

A CAPELLA CHOIR

It might be well to recall some of the happenings on the northern tour last year lest we forget such an incident as singing in the Hall of Fame at the Nation's capitol. You probably remember being an hour late for the concert in Wilmington, Delaware, tired and hungry, yet comforted by the fact that not a soul had become tired of waiting and gone home. Remember how Mabel Dix sucked lemons for two days before we crossed the Chesapeake in order to ward off seasickness, and, on the same voyage, Furman Wright was convinced that he saw a whale?

In time, we may forget some of these incidents, but there is one thing that will always remain foremost in our memory—that is the work of N. M. Harrison, Promotional Secretary. Were it not for him, the Choir might have never received the nation-wide acclaim that it now enjoys and its members might not have been privileged to travel extensively. We realize our indebtedness to him and express our sincere appreciation.

The debaters enjoyed this year, the most successful year in the history of inter-collegiate forensic competition at the College. They captured the North Carolina state championship and placed second in the South Atlantic tournament held at Hickory in March. The team, composed of Wilbur Hutchins and Lincoln Fulk, affirmative, and Hoyt Wood and Aubert Smith, negative, used the query, RESOLVED: That all nations should agree to prohibit the international shipment of arms and ammunition. In the extemporaneous speaking contest held in connection with the tournament, Lincoln Fulk placed second, taking as his subject "The Future of the Railways".

LITTLE THEATRE

Dramatic work at High Point is represented by the Little Theatre, now celebrating its second anniversary. Although the Little Theatre is not yet fully equipped, it has as its purpose the development of a strong organization that will be in the future even more the center of dramatic activities at the College.

Last year the artistic productions of the Laboratory Class in Drama were favorably received by some of the ablest dramatic critics in the State. Despite the fact that the department was handicapped by the lack of technical facilities, the few who worked day and night in the old Tower room with hammer and paint brush were able to stage performances that were declared outstanding.

Thus, with the foundations of an active organization already laid, the Little Theatre has undertaken to do a great deal this year. Under the direction of John M. Erickson, the Laboratory group, assisted by other interested students, has attempted an ambitious program of worthwhile plays for the College audiences.

The fall season began with "Dulcy", with Pauline Parker in the leading character role of a talkative young wife who creates one difficulty after another with her "harmless" chatter.

In January posters on the campus announced Richard Sheridan's famous period play, "The School for Scandal"—"a laugh hit for two centuries". Dressed in vivid costumes of silk and velvet, a large cast of snuff-sniffing gentlemen and proud, cruel ladies gossiped in the typically brilliant and sparkling seventeenth century manner about their friends and acquaintances. The scenery, constructed by Professor Rulfs and his student workers, was impressionistic.

The spring season included the efforts of the Speech Class—a short comedy and skits that were presented at a local theatre.

Perhaps the climax of the year's dramatic work came with the inevitable Senior Play—the class of 1935 having as its contribution the mystery melodrama, "Three Taps at Twelve".

TENTH ANNIVERSARY

SINCE High Point College is celebrating this year its tenth anniversary, it is well that we review some of its brief history and refresh our minds with the efforts and sacrifices of those responsible for its existence.

High Point College had its beginning in the mind of Rev. J. F. McCulloch, D.D., a native of Guilford County, North Carolina, and a graduate of Adrian College, Adrian, Michigan. Several years after his graduation he returned to North Carolina with the conviction that the North Carolina Methodist Protestant Conference should establish within her borders a high grade college. With this purpose in mind he visited the Annual Conference at La Grange in 1893 and presented his ideas so well that a committee was appointed to investigate, and if possible, to provide means for building a college. No sooner had the committee begun its work than it found that the church in North Carolina had no need for such an institution. Whereupon, Dr. McCulloch set about to establish a church paper in order that his views, along with other college propaganda, might be put into the homes of the members of the Methodist Protestant Church.

Accordingly, the Church Record was established; the name was later changed to the Methodist Protestant Herald. A lot was purchased in the city of Greensboro and a building erected upon it. The proceeds from the sale of this property, which had greatly increased in value, became a great asset to the college enterprise.

The college enterprise really began to take shape when Mr. J. C. Roberts of Kernersville provided in his will a gift of $10,000 if the college should be built by 1920; otherwise, the gift was to be used for educating young men preparing for the ministry. The gift created considerable interest in the college project and when the buildings were erected, the administration building was named in his honor.

At the Annual Conference in Enfield in 1920, a committee was appointed to inaugurate a campaign for funds and another was appointed to work with the architect in drawing up plans for the institution.

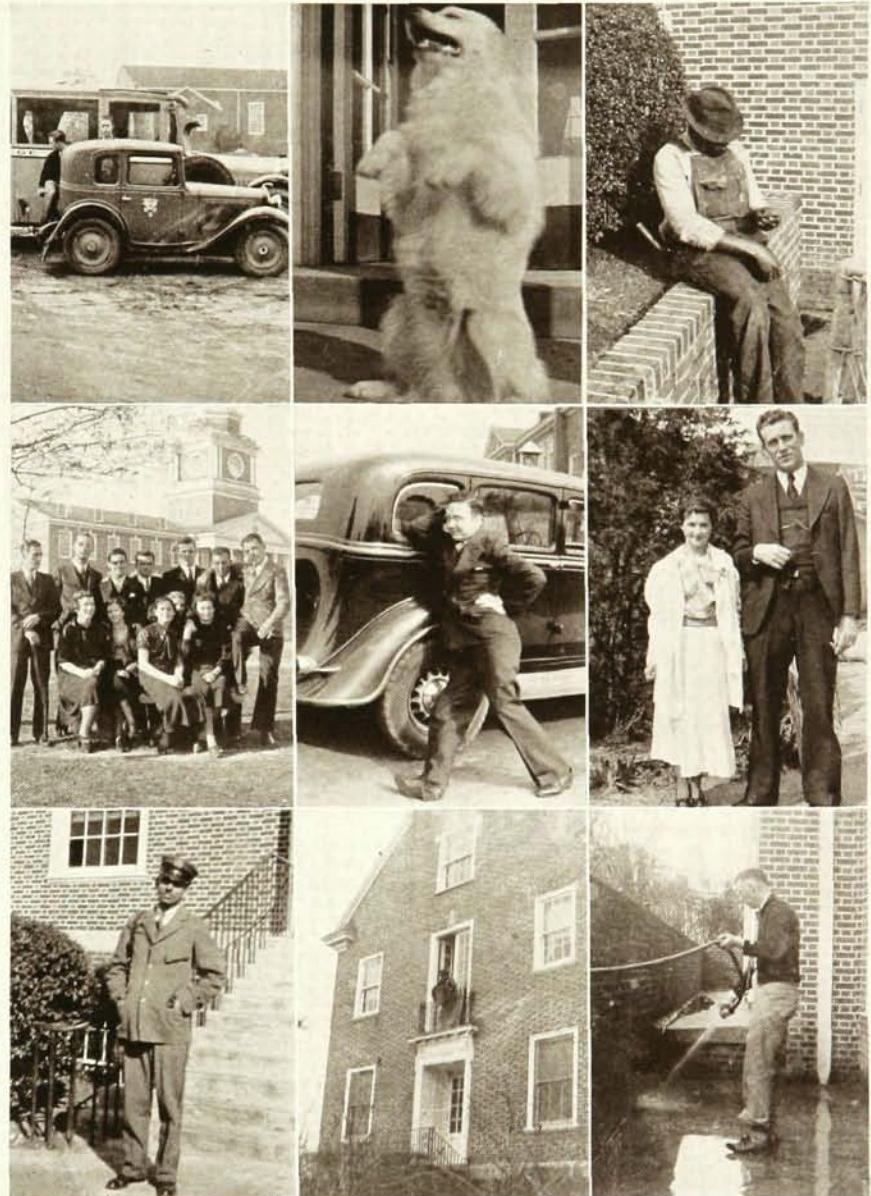

Several cities, notably High Point, Burlington and Greensboro, offered special inducements for location. After much consideration High Point, which had agreed to give a large tract of land and an additional $100,000, was selected.

The cornerstone of the first building, Roberts Hall, was laid on June 29, 1922; and the first class matriculated September 15, 1924. This class was composed of fifteen students coming from other colleges and registering as Sophomores. The first Freshman class numbered 101. And there were several special students bringing the total registration up to 132.

Dr. R. M. Andrews, who had served as Field Agent during the campaign for funds and as a member of the building committee during the construction of the college, became the first president. After his resignation in 1930, Rev. Gideon I. Humphreys was elected by the Board of Trustees as his successor.

The sea of red mud which existed in 1924 has gradually been turned into a beautiful, grassy campus, and a new gymnasium has been erected through the efforts of N. M. Harrison, Promotional Secretary.

High Point College successfully weathered the storm of the depression while other colleges with much better financial foundations were forced to close. Since it has overcome the obstacles of its first ten years of existence, High Point College may rightfully expect much from the future.

EXPLANATION

You will find in this section
A varied collection
Of limericks which are not true to form.
They were made by the staff
To give you a laff
So please don't look on them with scorn.

Consider the rabbits
in the field: They toil not, neither do they spin; yet Solomon in all his glory was not more averse to race suicide than one of these.

—Gumbo, 1904.

A beer in the hand is worth two in the Busch factory.

Where there's a won't there's probably a way.

Love may come and
love may go, but endearing epistles will always be stationery.

Sunday spooners . . .

prettily . . . Censored
. . . "Lij" making time
(gals?) . . . find the baseball . . . waitin' fur them over.

CO-ED'S LAMENT

We're cooped in this henhouse
Instead of a penthouse,
As the catalogue led us to believe,
Doing the Dance of Saint Vitus
For fear of appendicitis
On account of Ma's half-baked, white beans.

The preachers discreet
Have engagement to meet
With HI-PO heads each Sunday night
To help with the Vogues,
And those scandalous rogues
Can sheeuurree put a good name to flight.

When Choir trips begin
Some suffer chagrin
Cause the back seats are hurriedly taken.
They'd rather not ride
By the chaperone's side
But prefer to be mangled and shaken.
(Note: we are told the bus shakes.)

They're Still That Way

It was just after eight
The spooner was late
And she kept working her thumb;
Her nerves were a-thrill,
She couldn't keep still,
Oh, why, oh why
don't he come?

She'd rush to her room
For a touch of perfume
Or to straighten a
lock gone awry—
Then she'd pick up a book,
Give a glance or a look,
When back down the stairs she would fly.

It was a few minutes
past
When at last, at last
He finally came into the hall—
From the stairway she said,
As she blushed rosy-red,
"I forgot you were coming at all!"
—Pine Knot, 1924.

We go up to chapel
To hear someone babble
On something he knows nothing of;
Of boosters and kickers,
Light wines and hard likkers
And not one little word about love.

To the thoughts of what might have been.

High Point Day by Day

SEPTEMBER

Someone leaves open the front door of Roberts Hall on the morning of September 11. The halls are overflowing with strange wide-eyed creatures that drift in. Alma Mater claims them for her own. She dries their tears, registers them, orients them with no end of parties, blesses them and calls them "My Freshmen."

Three days later the upperclassmen stroll in leisurely to register and are amazed to hear the Class of '38 discussing "skirt barn" possibilities in manner most familiar. "Shades of C. R.!!" is the newest phrase on the campus.

Classes begin at 8:30 A.M. on the fourteenth. "Which one is Miss Wilmington?" is the big question of the day. Everybody knows the answer by 8:30 P.M.

The usual initiation schemes make the freshmen aware of their humble station by way of hair ribbons, pig-tails, "rat" signs, confused make-up, and garish garb for the co-eds; buckets, rolled pant legs, wholesale paddlings and painful peek-a-boo games for the lads.

Everybody is introduced to the faculty and vice-versa at the faculty reception. Four new faces are noted in the receiving line—two begoggled ones, one be-mustached one and another rather cherubic one.

Everyone is dined and picnicked over and over again (at the City Lake mostly) by scads of governments and literary societies and things.

Freshmen don cunning purple caps and upper-classmen turn green with envy.

Harvest moon complains of too much competition from the Roberts Hall-Girls' Dorm string of lights.

OCTOBER

Hectic rush days are going on and on—hot dogs and teas on and on

Until the night of the fifth when rushees decide whether to join or not to join and if so which one to join or not to join.

Theta Phis convert the dining room into the Candle Night Club. Gambling tables and bars are the order of the night. Whoops!

Student body has fun and ice cream at the M. P. Church reception.

Dr. Bowen lectures to a garden club on the lowest forms of life.

Mrs. White and the Senior girls serve tea for the College brides.

The Juniors stage a carnival. Becky is made Queen of the Fall. Page Kermits! Never mind.

Hallowe'en party a howling success.

NOVEMBER

The Lab presents "Dulcy" to a fair-sized audience in fairish manner.

An autumn Saturday and students sigh for the old days when we had a football team, too.

The HI-PO plays host to the North Carolina Collegiate Press Association and entertains royally with banquets and a merry dance or two. Place: Sheraton Hotel.

Cheers and cheers for the Sophomore co-eds who win the volley ball tournament.

Hill Saunders is made Freshman president.

Leo Pittard is chosen president of the Ministerial Association in session here.

"Haven't things changed?" the old grads chime in unison.

High Point Day by Day

The Conference hears the Choir sing. And Springhill and Midway.

State hears our debaters debate.

The same garden club hears Dr. Bowen on big bad mosses.

The Day Students mourn the loss of their chere chat, Julia.

Faculty won't talk turkey about the petitions for more time to eat turkey.

Thanksgiving! Holiday—mm-mm.

DECEMBER

Freshman "flop party" is a flop. It was no flop. Anyhow, it was successful.

Your Calenderer just can't remember what occurred in December except Classes adjourned—Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year!

JANUARY

Back from Christmas vacation to rest for the next holiday.

High Point just beats E. C. T. C., A. C. C., Appalachian, Lenoir-Rhyne, Catawba—and something fierce!

The Lab Class presents "The School for Scandal". Lovely ladies and scandal-mongering and an interesting library and "Oh fi, uncle"!

Edith Crowder, Mary Parham, Pattie Bartee, Sulon Ferree and Lincoln Fulk are to march for the Seniors.

Wilbur Hutchins and C. T. Morris are elected to the presidency of their literary societies, the Thalean and Akrothinian, respectively.

Examinations. Nuff said.

High Point gets beat something fierce and steps right smack into Elon's coffin.

Second semester begins. "Aw yeah, I'll do better this time." Oh, yeah?

FEBRUARY

Lelah captivates the audience that turns out to see Tony Sarg's Marionettes in "Faustus". Oh meeeeeee.

The Modern Priscilla Club entertains with a Valentine party. B, B, and B have a heart to heart talk—on immortality.

The debating squad invades the Paramount. All Mr. Erickson's ladies are perfect gentlemen.

In grand uproaring style the debating squad invades the College stage.

Annie Laurie Moss is elected president of the Senior class.

Elon again. High Point College basketball team defeats Catawba, A. C. C., Wake Forest, DAV-IDSON, E. C. T. C., something fierce!

high point college basketball team gets defeated by GUILFORD something fierce.

Thaleans and Nikanthans hold a George Washington party.

The Davies Light Opera Singers present the second lyceum program of the year. Audience marvels at their versatility.

Rush week goes into full swing.

MARCH

Artemesians and Akrothenians have a whole day to themselves. The banquet the best in years.

Flu menace is about gone. Appendicitis germs are now all over the place.

Debaters start on their northern tour.

Anti-bean campaign gets under way.

Sororities and fraternities reap the reward of their hard work and divide sixteen students among their respective ranks.

Students hear Bishop William F. McDowell in chapel.

College is to have an honor society at last.

The debaters come triumphant out of the North. They are State champions!

Alumni and students dance at the Country Club on the Ides of March. The basketball team members are guests of honor.

The Man from Vermont does tricky things with that violin of his'n.

Seniors present their annual play, "Three Taps at Twelve".

Again the faculty entertains. Saint Patrick provides a good excuse for a merry party.

The Zenith rushes madly, madly to press.

APRIL

Brings the usual things. Flowers, showers, investiture services, the Junior-Senior banquet, baseball, Easter holidays, and choir trips galore and glorious.

MAY

Brings all things usual and unusual. Rushy days, violent cases of spring fever and wanderlust, another lyceum program, Thalean-Nikanthan Anniversary Day, more baseball, more choir trips, more and more banquets and farewell frolics, the Zenith, elections, examinations — Commencement!!!!

There is nothing more to say,
So we must close—but by the way—
Perhaps we'll meet Home-Coming Day.

P.S.—Hasn't everything been fun? Adieu, adieu.

THE HIGH POINT, THOMASVILLE & DENTON RAILROAD COMPANY

Is an outstanding example of accomplishment as the result of co-operation and steady hard work. Large or small, any community thrives only when there is co-operation and a general spirit of service.

Utility Service and the Community

More than any other one factor, the quality of its utility services determines the desirability and attractiveness of a community for business or as a place in which to live.

In industry and in the home the application of electricity to industrial and household operations is multiplying the effectiveness of the labor of the worker and relieving the housekeepers of drudgery and fatigue. And while it increases the efficiency of the individual, it raises the quality of the work accomplished as well.

We invite attention to the standard of utility services in the cities in which we supply these essentials to modern living and modern business.
